2025 Blanc de Franc

The Vintage

The 2025 vintage in Paso Robles was a cooler, slower, and thankfully, without many weather extremes vintage. A mild summer allowed the grapes to take their time on the vine, developing flavor while holding onto their natural acidity. This led to a long, unhurried harvest, with fruit coming in over a longer period of time. The result? Wines with freshness, balance, vibrant fruit, and plenty of character. This is a very promising vintage.

The Vineyard

Bloch Vineyard, located in the Geneseo District at 1,080 ft. elevation, benefits from calcium-rich soils and a 25°F diurnal shift from the Templeton Gap. Its one-acre site features northwest/southeast exposure and fault-driven uplift. Although not certified, the vineyard is farmed using organic and sustainable practices.

The Winemaking Process

Tasting Notes

Our 2025 Blanc de Franc transports you to a sun-kissed orchard, where ripe peaches and nectarines are freshly picked from the tree. Those same vibrant stone fruit notes carry through on the palate, offering a refreshing and lingering flavor experience. Best enjoyed well-chilled, this wine delivers a crisp, fruit-forward profile that's perfect for warm days or casual sipping with friends.
